COSHOCTON MUNICIPAL COURT
COSHOCTON COUNTY, OHIO
KAREN L. SHAW, CLERK

January 31, 2015

Enclosed herewith please find the annual report on the operation of the Coshocton Municipal Court for the calendar year that commenced January 1, 2014, and ended December 31, 2014.

This Court is a Municipal Court with county-wide jurisdiction. Villages under the jurisdiction of the Court include West Lafayette, Warsaw, and Conesville.

This Court has now been in existence for sixty-two years. Judge Timothy L. France is the seventh Judge to preside over the Court. Judge France is currently serving his second term, which commenced in January, 2012.

The Court's Bailiff is Larry L. Miller; R. Christopher McCabe is the Court's Chief Probation Officer who also serves as Deputy Bailiff in Larry Miller's absence, and Christine L. Wilson serves as Deputy Probation Officer.

Larry Miller was hired as a Probation Officer in 1994. He was appointed Bailiff in January of 2003. Chris McCabe has been working with this Court since the year 1999. He was appointed Chief Probation officer in January of 2003 when Larry took over as Bailiff. Christine Wilson has been employed with this Court as a Deputy Probation Officer for thirteen (13) years.

Judge France and his staff experienced a loss in November, with the death of Acting Judge Norman S. Davitt. Norm served as Acting Judge for over eight (8) years.

Karen L. Shaw is the Clerk of Court. Karen has been with the Court since April, 2006 and has been the Clerk of Court since April, 2008.

Deputy Clerks include Jane M. Ewing, the employee with the most longevity, was hired on a part-time basis in 1985. She became full time in 1988. Jane works in the criminal/traffic division. G. Patrice Croft, who was hired in August, 2007, also works in the criminal/traffic division. Both Jane and Patrice have many responsibilities within their areas.....they handle all their duties very efficiently. Jonni S. Miller, was hired in March of 2008. Jonni works mainly in the Civil Department. She also has knowledge of and can help, if needed, with criminal/traffic matters. Felicia N. Hunter, (fka Felicia N. Lane) one (1) of the most recent hires in the Clerk's office works in the criminal/traffic division. Felicia works with the status hearing program and also helps Patrice with her duties. Felicia was hired full time in July, 2013. Congratulations to Felicia on her marriage in March to husband, Craig Hunter. Brittany D. Smith, the newest employee within the Clerk's office, performs several duties. In addition to handling numerous criminal/traffic matters, Brittany also assists Jonni Miller in the civil division. Brittany was hired full time in July, 2014.

In addition to their numerous other duties, all Deputy Clerks must answer telephone calls and "wait" the counter. The issues that are dealt with via the telephone and the counter are too numerous to try and list. The Civil division is also very busy handling various customers who visit the Clerk's office and want to file small claims/civil actions, evictions, etc.

Marcia J. Turner still works in the Clerk's office on a part time basis. Her experience and expertise in so many areas is very helpful to Karen and her Deputy Clerks.

Cross-training is one (1) of the goals that were met in 2014. Brittany worked with Jonni in the civil department, Felicia trained with Patrice, and Karen worked with Jane to learn more of her duties. The main goal is to have all jobs "covered" during vacations or if illness occurs. The cross-training outcome for 2014 was successful and will continue in 2015.

Coshocton Municipal Court routinely handles traffic and criminal arraignments, bond hearings and preliminary hearings on felony cases, pre-trials, court trials, jury trials, plea changes, and weekly Intensive Supervised Probation hearings. Other oral hearings scheduled include probation revocation hearings for both supervised and unsupervised probation, temporary protection order hearings and hearings for modifications of temporary protection orders, hearings on summonses for failure to pay fines and costs, status and review hearings as to payment progress, show cause hearings in contempt for failure to complete terms of a suspended sentence, modification of sentence (or of bond) hearings, bond forfeiture hearings, hearings as to immobilized and impounded vehicles, suppression of evidence hearings, small claims hearings, hearings for occupational driving privileges on suspensions, competency hearings, judgment debtor hearings, hearings as to wage garnishments and bank attachments, judgment revivor hearings, expungement hearings, and hearings as to forcible entry and detainer actions (evictions).

Judge France also presides over weddings, thirty-five (35) of which were conducted last year. This is a decrease of four (4) from the number held in 2013.

Intensive Supervised Probation Program (ISP) consists of defendants who usually have multiple alcohol and drug related offenses, and who then are released early from incarceration, with their jail sentences suspended, on the condition that they comply with the various terms of the program. These terms vary by case but can include house arrest, community service, alcohol and drug treatment, education, employment, payment of fines and costs, and obtaining a valid operator's license. The use of monitoring techniques, as outlined in the following paragraph, may also be required. The participants are, initially, to report weekly, directly to Judge France, to discuss their compliance, or lack thereof, as well as their successes and failures. The program is structured toward each individual's needs and a completion date is usually within twelve (12) to eighteen (18) months of their start date. Coshocton Behavioral Health Choices, Six County, Inc. and Coshocton County Job and Family Services sent representatives on a weekly basis to assist defendants. Michelle L. McCarty was a participant to assist those with mental health issues which tend to focus on defendants dealing with issues of "loss".

Probation Department personnel could not supply the Intensive Supervised Probation figures for 2014 due to a technical issue with our software provider, Henschen and Associates.

The Ignition Interlock Program was successfully continued in 2014. The Ignition Interlock Program allows the defendant the opportunity to have driving privileges but requires a breathalyzer test prior to allowing the defendant to start his or her vehicle.

A total of six (6) defendants utilized the Ignition Interlock program in 2014.

By utilizing this program, along with the electronically monitored House Arrest program, this Court is both helping defendants, by allowing them to retain employment, and is also effectively helping to reduce the on-going jail overcrowding situation. The Judge also discusses offenses with defendants prior to sentencing in an attempt to make their sentence "fit their crime" and also in an attempt to determine each defendant's ability to successfully comply with their sentence. A total of twenty-seven (27) defendants were participants of electronically monitored house arrest (EMHA) in 2014. Of those, twenty-one (21) had EMHA with alcohol monitoring device and six (6) had house arrest only with no alcohol monitoring device. The electronic monitored house arrest is contracted to a private company to save time and money. This allows the contractor to monitor compliance rather than a probation officer.

The status hearing program instituted by Judge France in 2006 still continues to be a success. This program is geared toward defendants who have been non-compliant on fine payments or other obligations and who require more intensive guidance or motivation.

Defendants are given a status date by which they are to complete certain criteria. If they are unable to comply, they are to report on the status date for further review of their case file and to advise Judge France directly, of their problems as to non-compliance. This program continues to reduce the work load on the probation staff which allows the probation department to devote more time to those that need their personal attention and direction.

Probation Department personnel could not provide the number of defendants on active probation at the end of 2014, nor the amount of open warrants for the defendants who violated the terms of their probation, due to technical issues with our software provider, Henschen and Associates.

In calendar year 2014, 167 defendants signed up for the Community Service Program, and completed 4,448 $\frac{3}{4}$ hours of community service work. Community Service work is assigned at sentencing as an additional term of a defendant's probation, or in lieu of serving jail time. Defendants may also sign up to complete community service in lieu of payment of their fines at a credit rate of \$8.00 per hour. 260 hours were as an additional term of probation; 2,594 hours were in lieu of serving 354 days in jail; and, 1,594 $\frac{3}{4}$ hours were in lieu of payments of \$12,756.00 in outstanding fines and costs. Please note that this amount is a credit amount only, and therefore is not included in the cash payments collected and referenced in this report.

Judge France, himself, completed over 200 hours of community service, often working side by side with the defendants.

Sally Wiggins works as an independent contractor to supervise community service workers. Her focus in 2014 was to enhance and maintain the flower beds at City Hall, at the County Court House, along Main Street, at the track at Coshocton High School and at Sacred Heart Church, as well as help clean at Kid's America. When community service workers opt to perform community service with Mrs. Wiggins in lieu of their fines, their credit rate would be $12.00 per hour. Under the direction of Sally Wiggins, defendants completed 1,120 hours in lieu of payments of their fines and 360 ¾ hours were completed in lieu of contempt.

The majority of domestic violence offenders are offered the opportunity to complete a counseling program. This program allows defendants who are first time domestic violence offenders and who meet certain criteria, to complete counseling after which the charges against them will be dismissed. The counseling program normally lasts from eight (8) to eighteen (18) months. Domestic violence charges filed in 2014 totaled 85, which is an increase of fifteen (15) from last year.

Eleven (11) temporary protection orders were issued in 2014, which is a decrease from the twenty-four (24) issued in 2013. Temporary protection orders can be issued to victims of assault, menacing and stalking as well as to domestic violence victims.

As in previous years, a breakdown of specific charges filed in 2014 and a ledger of yearly receipts and disbursements is included in this report. There were 1,421 criminal misdemeanors filed in 2014, which is an increase from 2013 of 210 counts. Total felony charges filed in 2014 were fifty-four (54), which is a decrease of five (5) counts from 2013.

Note that aggressive action by the Dog Warden and Deputy Dog Warden resulted in the offenses of unlicensed dog and Dog at Large as the top two (2) criminal offenses filed. A total of 388 unlicensed dog charges were filed and 185 Dog at Large charges were filed (for a total of 573 of the 1,421 criminal misdemeanor counts filed in 2014); these were followed by 115 theft charges; 85 domestic violence charges (seventy-three (73) misdemeanor counts and twelve (12) felony counts); fifty-three (53) criminal trespassing; fifty (50) aggravated disorderly conduct charges, and forty-one (41) assault charges.

Total traffic citations filed for 2014 were 1,932, which is a decrease from 2013 by 333 counts. In the traffic division, the top four (4) offenses were: excessive speed at 797 (which is a decrease of 218 counts from 2013); failure to wear a safety belt at 206 (a decrease of eight (8) counts from 2013); driving while under license suspension with 184 counts (an increase from 2013 of seventeen (17) counts), and driving while under the influence of alcohol (OVI) with 113 counts. Failure to control took spot number five (5) with 102 counts. And, number six (6) was registration violation with 67 counts.

Activity in the civil division increased with case filings in 2014 at 640 (an increase from 2013 of forty (40) cases). Civil lawsuits filed include requests for money judgments on delinquent accounts, unpaid promissory or cognovit notes, damages, back rent and other miscellaneous causes (mainly in the small claim division), as well as replevin and forcible entry and detainer actions (evictions). Eviction actions, which have increased from 2013 by six (6) cases, accounted for 134 of the 640 cases filed; 163 of the 640 cases were small claims cases; 297 were unpaid accounts; twenty-six (26) of those cases were for damages and twenty (20) were all other miscellaneous filings.

Other civil proceedings include certification and collection of judgments. This requires handling numerous motions for judgment debtor examinations, contempts, bench warrants, wage garnishments and bank attachments. The Court's jurisdictional limitations are $15,000.00 for civil cases and $3,000.00 for small claim cases.

Although jurors were summoned on several occasions, only one (1) jury trial proceeded in 2014 in a traffic case (OVI). The defendant was found guilty by the jury of operating a vehicle impaired.

A total of nine (9) appeals were filed in 2014. Two (2) of these are civil matters, and seven (7) are criminal/traffic matters. Of these nine (9) cases, three (3) remained under appeal at the close of the year for decision by the Fifth District Appellate Court in 2015; on two (2) criminal cases, judgment was affirmed by the Fifth District Appellate Court and one (1) criminal case the Fifth District Court reversed the decision of this Court and remanded the case back for further proceedings. The case was ultimately dismissed for lack of evidence and three (3) cases were dismissed by the Appellate Court for various reasons. Of the cases from 2013, on one (1) civil matter the decision of this Court was reversed by the Appellate Court and remanded back for further proceedings, which case was settled by the parties. As to three (3) of those cases from 2013, judgment was affirmed by the Fifth District Appellate Court.

Coshocton Municipal Court offers complete case records to the public via the internet, and are also one of the pioneering courts to accept payment of fines and costs by credit card via the internet. In 2014, payments of $89,120.95 were collected by credit card. Please see our website at www.coshoctonmunicipalcourt.com.

Over one (1) million in outstanding fines and costs are owed by defendants. Capital Recovery Systems, Inc., a collection agency, continues to try and collect outstanding fines and costs owed by defendants. Those cases are sent to collection only after every effort has been made on the part of the Court to collect the outstanding balances.

We also continue to utilize the digital court recording system in the courtroom, which we had programmed to access information from the clerk's office affording the Judge instant access, in the courtroom, to a defendant's court record, including payment and compliance requirements, case history and/or notification of other possible pending cases or warrants, and access to the BMV website to check drivers license issues, including suspensions and reinstatement requirements. And, the Court continues to send data via the internet to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, and periodically to the Bureau of Criminal Identification and requesting credit bureaus.

The Court remains connected to and is actively utilizing a statewide justice information exchange system, Ohio Courts Network (OCN).

Monies from the Judge's special project fund were utilized for the following purchases: refurbishing of the hallway on the Court's floor (basement area of City Hall) and for office furnishings.

Monies from the Judge's computer fund were also used for upgrades to the system as we work towards becoming paperless and the focus for 2015 will be to continue to work towards that goal.

Respectfully Submitted:

Karen L. Shaw, Clerk of Court

Timothy L. France, Municipal Judge

Clerk's note: Felonies are filed in Municipal Court for the purpose of conducting a bond hearing. Preliminary Hearings are then scheduled, which proceed UNLESS the defendant waives the hearing, or, UNLESS the defendant is indicted by Grand Jury prior to the Preliminary Hearing. If the case proceeds to the preliminary hearing, the Judge can either dismiss the case or find probable cause that the defendant committed the offense charged and bind the case over to Common Pleas Court for further proceedings. If Grand Jury meets prior to the preliminary, the Municipal Court case is dismissed and the case proceeds in Common Pleas Court according to the Grand Jury indictment. If the defendant waives the preliminary hearing, the case is automatically bound over to Common Pleas Court.
